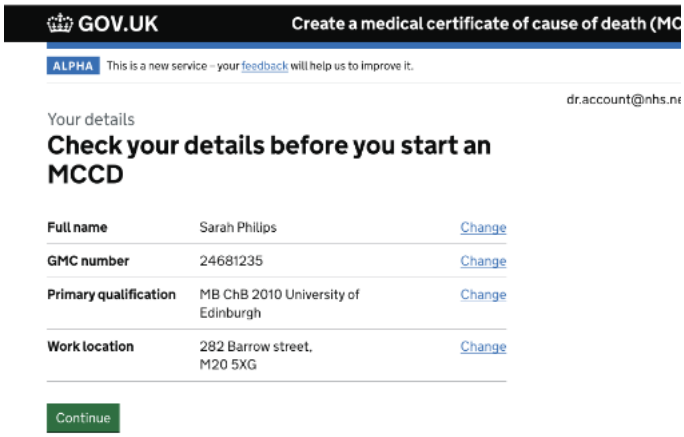
Check your details before you start an MCCD (as of 12/10/2023)



This is the first screen an AP will see before creating an MCCD. It is a confirmation page which requires the AP to review their personal details and amend them if they're not correct. It is important that these details are correct as these details are a legal requirement when the AP signs the MCCD form.

If the AP needs to amend any of the details the 'Change' hyperlink will take the user directly to the screen that displays the question to amend their details. They will not have to start the whole process of registering again.

The Alpha Assessment highlighted that we need to make it easier for attending practitioners to amend individual answers without having to go through the rest of the transaction.

User research

This tested well and there were no comments.

Is a profile page needed where users can edit their details?
