Postcode lookup (as of 23/10/2023)

The design team replaced the manual input of the address with a postcode lookup.

This design iteration looks at meeting point 4 of the alpha assessment:

"4. Make the service simple to use.

- consider how the service can reduce the amount of information that the attending practitioner is required to enter by saving regularly used profile information such as personal details, GMC number, qualifications, employment address, regularly used medical examiner(s) and hospital locations. This should also help reduce errors in form completion and encourage digital adoption."

An address lookup will reduce the amount of information the user has to input and reduce errors.

Deceased person's details
What is the postcode of where the death occured?

Design

The design adheres to GDS patterns for address and select boxes.

To do

Our interaction designer has concerns about the accessibility of a select box. For Beta we would like to investigate replacing the select box with a radio box selection, however this too could lead to issues with a long list of addresses resulting in an overly long page.
